

is pushed on the stack so that we know where to return to after the procedure is done. The last step is the point